CANON HAS PARTNERED WITH THE PUBLIC SECTOR
FOR OVER 40 YEARS

We are living in a world that is experiencing unprecedented growth both of information and imagery. In recent years we have witnessed a revolution in the digital world that enables us to do things we could not have even dreamed about just a decade ago.

We think there's never been a better time for technology to make a difference in the public sector. The core principles of public service, whatever the uniform and wherever the workplace, remain the same: to support, protect and invigorate every citizen's life, from beginning to end. It is an extraordinary ambition - that some way, somehow, there will always be someone there for them.

Canon's technologies and services are there at every step of the journey too, helping people communicate, educate, collaborate, diagnose and protect.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Canon for education–enabling richer learning experiences.

Providing students with the best possible experience is exceptionally important to universities, particularly at a time where tuition fees have risen significantly and students are ever more tech-savvy, expecting the latest technology to be available to them instantly while studying.

With an uncapped number of student places, universities are having to compete harder than ever to attract students, whose raised expectations demand the very highest standards across the board, from teaching, to facilities and technology.

Around half of all universities in the UK have already chosen Canon to help them make cost savings that can then be re-invested to expand the services and experiences offered to students.

What better way to attract students than offering a state of the art reprographics department? With Canon's large format technology and expertise, we can help you create an environment perfect for students across a variety of courses, where they can choose from a vast range of print media, coupled with easy usability and astounding quality.
