A cloud-based service

Print is a requirement and a necessity for many business processes and a critical form of communication. But managing print is challenging. It can be cumbersome and costly, taking away time from more critical aspects of your business. It is complex because of IT and technology requirements, administrative needs and invoicing. Print is also often overlooked but is an important and complicated part of any security strategy – there's a lot to deal with.

Ready to get started? It's simple and straightforward.

- Assess and design: Understand your current state and future needs, then work with your IT provider to create your new plan.
- Propose: A detailed proposal outlines your engagement.
- Deploy: Purchase and install new Lexmark devices in your locations.
- Manage: Sit back and let your trusted IT provider manage your fleet.
